

URMET INTERCOM OPERATION

1. When a visitor calls a resident on the intercom system, they call the apartment number by using the keypad and the bell symbol on the right end side of the panel.

2. The video monitor inside the called unit sounds an electronic tone and colour vision of the calling entry is displayed. The resident can answer by pressing the talk button (top right button on the below picture) and two-way communication takes place between the monitor and the hands-free external entry station.

3. If the caller is to be admitted, the resident presses the video monitor button with the key symbol (top right – 2nd button from top), and the door/gate will be released.

4. The resident then pressed the talk button (top right button) to end the call. Otherwise the video link will automatically time out.
